With the start of a new year comes new beginnings. This can be a great time to reflect and set goals for the new year.

1. Decide what YOU want out of life. If you do not have goals and plans, others will make them for you. What experiences do you want out of life? If you do not have a sense of direction, it will be easy for others to pull you off track and into their atmosphere.

2. Have a plan. Write down what you want. This is often listed as the most crucial step for people who have achieved goals when they look back over the process. Write down your plan and place it somewhere you will see it each day. What new steps will you take to achieve your goals? To achieve something new, new steps will have to be taken. You cannot achieve new things if you keep doing the same things. Remember, small changes (steps) over time add up to big changes. Start small. The biggest mistake is trying to go for drastic changes that will not be sustainable over time.

3. Within your goal plan, have a completion date. Depending on your goal, this date can perhaps be at the end of the 2018 year or your goal could have a longer-range date

(such as becoming an engineer, doctor, or veterinarian...).

4. Tell someone. Be careful with this step. You want to tell someone in order for them to hold you accountable and be a positive support for you while you are in the process of reaching your goals. This should not be a casual friend or someone who has a negative outlook on life. You need someone who is going to uplift you and help you achieve your goal. (In fact, surrounding yourself with uplifting, positive people is not only a goal achieving strategy, it is a life strategy).

Hopefully, these steps will help YOU achieve what YOU want in the new year. If you have a setback, don't worry. Just keep going and pressing to victory. The only way to truly be defeated is to quit trying. Here's to a new year and to achieving new goals that create great change.

Counselors' Corner

February and March is course registration time at Peet JHS.

The counselors will also be traveling to Bozman, Cryar, Stewart and Travis to begin registration for our rising 7th graders.

Elective Night will be at Peet on Tuesday, February 6th from 6:00 – 7:30.

Seventh grade students will receive their course registration worksheet along with a short presentation on Friday, February 2nd. Students will be expected to choose their classes for 8th grade thru Student Access at home and be completed by Friday, February 9th. Information will be available on the Peet website.

Our 8th graders will meet with the Conroe High School 9 counselors on March 2nd and receive their verification sheet containing 9th grade courses they selected from their 4-year plan in their College and Career Class. Parent Night is March 5th at Conroe HS 9 Campus.

Please sit down with your child and go over choices very carefully before inputting into Student Access. Every year there are students who did not choose wisely and are disappointed when they receive their schedule in August.

You need to map out a plan in order to arrive at your desired destination.
